

BIO:

Born in 1989 in Hefei, China, Hong Hong earned her MFA in 2014 from the University of Georgia and her BFA in 2011 from the State University of New York at Potsdam. Hong is the 2015 recipient of an artist grant from the Greater Hartford Arts Council in Hartford, CT as well as an Emergency Grant from the Foundation for Contemporary Arts in New York City. She was recently commissioned by the Center for the Arts at Wesleyan University to create Moon in the Tall Grass for Harbor Park in Middletown. Hong has exhibited at numerous venues including Newhouse Center for Contemporary Art, Goffe Street Armory, Pittsburgh Center for the Arts, Georgia Museum of Art, and Oconee Cultural Arts Foundation. Her work has been reviewed by Yale Daily News, The Arts Paper, The Pittsburgh Tribune, and The Daily Nutmeg. Hong currently lives and works in Hartford, CT, where she teaches papermaking classes and workshops.