HONORING KARYN GILVARG

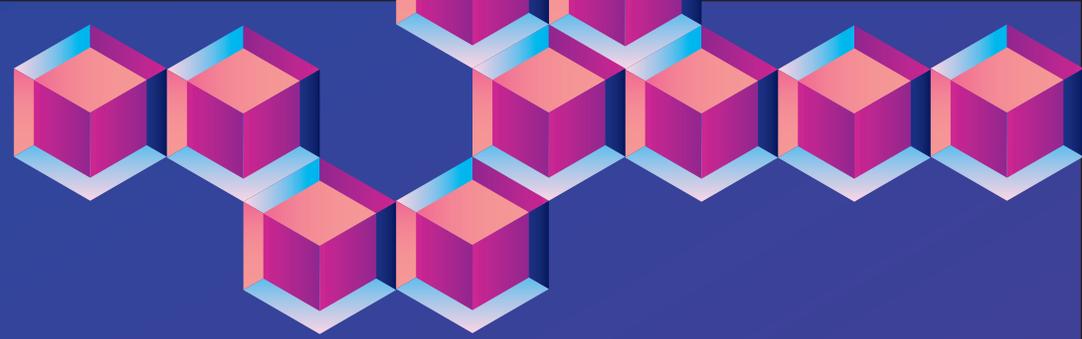

Karyn helmed New Haven's City Plan Department for 23 years and championed smart growth, environmental sustainability, and historic preservation along with strong design, and lasting quality in many of the City's redevelopment projects.

Highlights of her career include working with the Connecticut DOT on the award-winning Q Bridge; the Farmington Canal Heritage Trail Master Plan and construction of Phases 1-3 of the trail; the community Boat House at Canal Dock; the Downtown Crossing project to connect Route 34 to downtown, the Hill neighborhood, medical district, and Union Station area; the Mill River District Plan; along with efforts to make Ninth Square an Arts & Entertainment District, which paved the way for Artspace's move there.

Artspace is a visionary and dynamic non-profit organization championing emerging artists and building new audiences for contemporary art. Our exhibition and commissioning programs (in the gallery, out of doors, and city-wide) encourage experimentation, discovery, and lively civic discourse, while fostering appreciation for the vital role that artists play in improving our community.

Known as one of New Haven's cultural anchors and a "derring-do alternative space" (The New York Times), Artspace is a champion of visual artist and their work. Your support will allow Artspace to sustain its award-winning summer arts apprenticeship for inner-city teens, the popular City-Wide Open Studios festival, professional development programs which equip artists with the means to build their careers, and our free year-round, museum-caliber exhibitions that educate, provoke, and delight visitors and residents alike.

Our 30th anniversary gala will feature festive cocktails, hearty plates, and a silent auction at Artspace, followed by an exciting live art auction at 45 Church Street—the landmark 1905 Connecticut Bank & Trust—presided over by the incomparable auctioneer, Guy Bennett. Three hundred of Connecticut's influencers are expected.
